Museum and Welcome Center of Fulton County

The Fulton County Commissioners have been awarded $1 million in capital improvement funds for a county museum, visitor bureau and heritage research center to be located just north of the Ohio Turnpike State Route 108 Interchange and directly across from the Fulton County Fairgrounds.

The new location will allow for the following:

- Visible architectural continuity within Fulton County and its culture and local history (replication of the first courthouse in Fulton County, barn-like sided Museum).
- Adequate space and environmental conditions for the proper collection and storage of documents and artifacts for both public display and academic research.
- Appropriate space for data collection and cataloguing of records.
- Easy electronic access for the collection and dissemination of historical information throughout Fulton County.
- A pleasant, accessible and attractive destination for residents, tourists, academic researchers, school children and ongoing archival collection and retention activities.

The Fulton County Historical Society is kicking off a capital campaign to raise the additional $1 million needed to complete the project.
