Strengthening families
throughout Fulton County

The Prevention, Retention, and Contingency (PRC) program was established in Ohio to help families overcome immediate barriers to achieving or maintaining self-sufficiency. The program was designed to provide benefits and services to needy families who are in need of help with essential support to move out of poverty and become self-sufficient. The PRC program provides new opportunities to develop and implement creative and innovative strategies and approaches to remove families from a cycle of dependency on public assistance and into work.

PRC, by design, has been developed to provide benefits and services that are not considered "assistance". When a benefit or service falls within the definition of "assistance", there is a set of consequences for the family, including time limits, child support assignment, and data reporting requirements.
